The answer to the test is option 3: the woman had a bad crash in the car.

What was extraordinary and providential was the fact that she did not receive any injuries at all.

The Dominant Feature is the conjunction of the two most violent planets, Mars and Pluto, on the 3rd Cusp (Roads and Transport) – a violent crash on the roads. The quincunx to Uranus adds a third malefic, typical of accidents.

The present instance the Month Age Harmonic shows the Part of Fortune at 27Li53 right on the 3rd Cusp at 27Li40. Maybe we can say that it protected her from further injury.

8 Astrologers participated in the Test. 3 found the correct answer. Below follow their answers in order of receipt.

uses Solar Eclips/Lunar return/ Quotidian

The solar eclipse on June 30th was in opposition to Mercury, almuten of the 1st House, and sextile with Mars, almuten of the 3rd and the 8th, and Saturn, almuten of the 6th. This eclipse was activated by a trine sent by Mercury on October 13th, i.e. the eve of the event.

In the lunar revolution, Venus, almuten of the 1st and Lord of the Year, was in square with Saturn, almuten of the 12th in the 12th

The Sun, almuten of the 3rd and the 6th, was posited in the 8th in its fall. It was in square with Mars, almuten of the 3rd, which was posited in the 3rd.

The Sun and Mars were in square with Uranus.

The same pattern was to be found in the quotidian chart: the Sun, almuten of the 3rd in its fall sign, was sending a square to Mars, almuten of the 6th, and to Uranus posited in the 8th.

Moreover, the Moon, which was the almuten of the 1st, the 3rd and the 12th, was conjunct to the Ascendant, but in the 12th House. From there opposite Venus, almuten of the 12th conjunct Pluto.

There are a lot of testimonies related to the 1st the 3rd, the 6th and the 12th. The accident looks the most likely to me.
